

boom festival 2004

26, 27, 28, 29, 30 August 2004

(Idanha-a-Nova follow the signs)

How to get there

Flights, Bus & Special Boom Transports

Flight: This is probably the most comfy way to come to the Boom Festival, and to visit Portugal.

In Portugal there are 3 international Airports where you can fly to:

Lisboa: (The capital situated at the centre of Portugal). This is the closest airport to the Boom site.

Porto (North of the country)

Faro (South of Portugal in the Algarve). Sometimes here you get the best flight deals from all the major cities in Europe.

If you prefer, you can also fly to Madrid in Spain (an alternative if you rent a car at the airport).

Bus or Train: If are coming from Europe and on a low budget, this is probably your second best way to get to Portugal.

There are several bus and train companies from all over Europe that have Lisboa in their destination books. Just enquire in your local international Bus & Train office.
